VOLODYMYR MOROZ

JUNIOR FULL STACK DEVELOPER

With an engineering background, I have effectively managed my own online sales business for 10 years. This has helped me develop crucial skills such as attention to detail, goal setting and achievement, self-organization, self-improvement, communication, teamwork, leadership, problem-solving and much more.

I completed a year-long course in full-stack development, where I gained knowledge and practical experience through team projects. Continuous learning and undertaking additional programming courses, along with my work experience in various companies, have provided me with the necessary practical skills which I am ready to apply as a Junior Full Stack Developer for effective work in your company.
